Theme: INNOVATION

The organising committee invites submissions for presentations or posters from postgraduates on the theme of innovation. Presentations will be 15 minutes followed by questions and discussion.

The deadline for submission of abstracts (250 words) is 11:59 on Monday 16th April.

For further information, visit: www.education.leeds.ac.uk/research/research-students-education-conference/

Inquiries: edursec@leeds.ac.uk @RSEC2018

Keynote speakers

Professor Rowena Murray

Looking for innovative thesis writing strategies

Rowena Murray is Professor of Education, Director of Research at the University of the West of Scotland, UK and Principal Fellow of the UK Higher Education Academy. Rowena is also the author of the bestselling books, How to Write a Thesis and Writing for Academic Journals, both published by Open University Press.

Dr. Chrissi Nerantzi

What fuels pedagogic innovation?

Dr. Chrissi Nerantzi is an open practitioner and researcher working as a Principal Lecturer in Academic CPD in the Centre for Excellence in Learning and Teaching at Manchester Metropolitan University. She leads on creativity and innovation in learning and teaching, open education and recognising and rewarding teaching excellence.